Report on Workshop on "Career Prospects of Philosophy"

Date :- 29.03.2018

A one day workshop on 'Career Prospects of Philosophy' was held in D. R. College Auditorium on 29.03.2018 at 11:00 AM, organized by Deptt. of Philosophy.

Dr. Nirupama Bhattacharya, Head of the Department of Philosophy of Sivsagar College was invited as a resource person to deliver a speech on the benefits of reading philosophy, particularly as a major subject. The workshop was presided over by Mrs. Gayatri Sarma Tamuly, the Head of the Department. Altogether hundreds of students participated along with more than twenty teachers of different departments of the college. Dr. Bhattacharya's speech proved to be quite beneficial to our students. In her speech, she covered various aspects so far as the benefits of reading philosophy are concerned. She attached primary importance to the point that the reading of philosophy enables a student to acquire the capability of critical thinking and logical analysis. She was of the opinion that students must acquire thinking and logical reasoning in order to succeed in different competitive examinations.

After the speech, Dr. Bhattacharya interacted with the students of the department. The students actively participated in this session. It was thought that her interaction with the students was fruitful.

After light refreshment, Dr. Paban Ch. Dutta, associate Professor, Dept. of philosophy offered vote of thanks to all. The president ended the meeting with her comments on the workshop.
